A painting robot

FRIDA is a robot. It can paint. It has an arm. A brush is attached to the arm.

An operator tells FRIDA his idea about what to paint. The robot makes a plan. It prepares the right colors. A camera is checking the robot's work. It is okay if the robot makes a mistake. It includes the mistake in the painting. Artists do the same.

It is hard to say if FRIDA is a painter or not. Painters watch and listen to the world around them. This gives them ideas about what to paint. FRIDA does a similar thing.

First class travel

First-class cabins are starting to look like small hotel rooms. They have sofas, double beds, televisions, desks, wardrobes, minibars, and sometimes even showers.

Airlines are spending a lot of money on these things. The economy is not doing well and prices are going up. But airlines need to make money. They lose very much money during the pandemic. They hope that people who cannot travel during Covid-19 will be okay to pay more for a fancy flying experience. Some people who go on vacation are booking flights in business or first class. They want to enjoy their holiday after a long time.

Face with a lot of pictures

An artist makes an animation. She is from Britain. She paints her face and takes a photograph of it.

Then she paints her face again. The second picture on her face is a little bit different. She takes a photograph again. She does this 750 times. She works 17 hours a day for five days.

The pictures are put together. They are played fast. It looks like a movie. The animation is very interesting. It is about rebirth and transfer of energy.

A man lives underwater

Joseph Dituri is a university professor. He breaks a record. He stays underwater for 74 days.

Dituri stays at a lodge in Florida, United States. The lodge is 9 meters underwater. There is no technology which lowers pressure. Dituri wants to see what happens with his body. He eats a lot of protein. He exercises every day. He has online classes with 2,500 students. These students study marine science.

Dituri stays at the lodge since March 1. He already spends the longest time underwater. But he wants to stay there until June 9.

An underwater robot

Scientists at Tethys Robotics, a Swiss company from ETH Zurich, make a special robot.

This robot works underwater. It goes to places which are too dangerous for people to go. The robot works on its own. It can handle hard places like rivers with dirty water. It helps when normal ways of finding and saving things do not work.

The robot has a battery which lasts for four hours. It weighs 30 kg when it is in water. It can go at a speed of 2 meters per second. It can also communicate over a fiber optics cable. The cable is up to 10 kilometers long.

Asteroid with rings

giuseppe Casan

Scientists find a special asteroid. The asteroid is in front of a star. It is 250 kilometres wide. The scientists are surprised. The asteroid has two rings.

People thought that only big planets have rings. This is not true. Small objects have rings, too. This asteroid is the smallest object that has rings. We don't know how the rings are formed. They are probably made of ice and rocks.

Mumbai metro helps the city

Mumbai is a city in India. It is one of the biggest cities in the world.

Mumbai has a lot of cars. The roads are crowded. Officials hope that the new Aqua Line metro will help. The metro will make travel faster. It will connect the southern island to the northern suburbs. It's important because Mumbai has a lot of people. 22 million people live there. The Aqua Line will take most people away from road travel.

Building the metro line is difficult. But officials are determined to finish it. The metro is part of a plan to make public transport better and help the city grow.
